Suffolk County Legislator William J. Lindsay spoke at Career Day at Oakdale-Bohemia Middle School on Thursday, October 28. Legislator Lindsay visited with sixth graders and educated these young boys and girls about the County government services provided to all Suffolk County residents.

Legislator Lindsay shared with the students stories about growing up and how his passion for helping others led him to take a more active role in local government affairs. “It was always my goal to work with others and help them in any way possible,” said Legislator Lindsay. “I hope that as other young students finish school and move on to college that they stay involved in their local community.”
